Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Monday 17 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny spells and showers, heaviest in east.

Today:
A bright day with sunny spells and showers, mainly across central parts at first but developing more widely through the morning. The showers becoming heavy and perhaps thundery this afternoon, especially in east. Northern Isles and west coast largely dry.

Tonight:
Showers becoming confined to eastern parts overnight with sunny then clear spells across central and western parts. Cloud and rain reach Shetland in evening and the far north around dawn.

Tuesday:
Central and southern Scotland see sunny spells and scattered showers. Cloudier conditions with outbreaks of rain across the far north edge south, with sunny spells and showers following to Shetland.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Sunny spells and showers Wednesday, mainly across the south and east. Bright start Thursday but cloud, occasionally heavy rain and increasing winds spreading east. Further rain or showers on Friday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.